

OHIO WELFARE STATE TERMED AS "SHOCKING"

Committee Recommends Changing One Normal School to Hospital

REPORT NOW PUBLIC

Investigation Scheduled to Begin Monday

COLUMBUS, April 28.—Describing crowded conditions in Ohio's welfare institutions as "shocking," the welfare division of the legislative finance committee today recommended that one of the state's four normal schools be abandoned and utilized to relieve the situation.

The report of the welfare division was made to Rep. Clarence H. Burk (D) chairman of the general finance committee. Burk announced following receipt of the report that an investigation would be conducted to determine the feasibility of following out the recommendation of the sub-committee with regard to converting one of the normal schools into a welfare institution.

At the present time Ohio has in its welfare institutions approximately 26,000 inmates and inmates, the sub-committee reported. In addition, the department of welfare has registered upon its waiting list approximately 1,500 prospective patients.

CONDITION "SHOCKING"
This over-crowded situation, the sub-committee declared, "has revealed conditions that are shocking to the minds of normal persons."

"In making these charges," the report stated, "the committee feels that it is their duty to be specific so they set forth a few instances in which the state has failed to assume its entire obligation."

"Cuyahoga-co is spending approximately $100 per hour for the care of insane and feeble minded patients, all of whom should be in state institutions. Other counties have similar problems, based upon their proportionate population."

"In the Columbus state hospital for insane over 100 patients are compelled to sleep on the floor and the mattresses stored during the day. This institution has facilities to properly house 2,200 patients but they are after a fashion accommodating 2,800. For example, in one room 15 by 15 1-2 - 8 patients are compelled to sleep."

EXAMPLES SHOWN
"The Girls' Industrial Home in Delaware is also so crowded that in some of its dormitories beds must be placed so close together that the girls retiring must climb over the foot of the bed."

"At Gallipolis State Hospital for Epileptics, we were told that if every patient in the hospital (approximately 2,200) were discharged today they would have a sufficient waiting list in the state to completely refill the institution tomorrow."

In one ward of approximately 40 women patients all of whom are untidy, and many of them without sufficient mentality to recognize hunger, a young girl is employed as caretaker working from the hours of 5:30 in the morning until eight in the evening for the paltry sum of $37.40 per month, and maintenance with one day of her month."

The investigation will be started Monday, May 1, Burk said, by a committee which will be instructed to report its findings "at the earliest possible moment."

The four normal schools in the state are those at Bowling Green, Kent, Athens and Oxford.

The report of the welfare sub-committee was completed following a survey during the last few weeks of the 22 welfare institutions in Ohio.

"Court Tragedy and Comedy" Subject of Supreme Court Chief Justice.

Relating details of several experiences in court trials, Judge Carl V. Weygandt, chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court, gave a very interesting talk before the Rotary club Thursday evening when he told of "Court Tragedy and Comedy."

Having years of court experience he was well able to give the details of these cases that brought out the human qualities and character of parties involved. His listeners were touched by the tragic stories told and brought to laughter by the comedy.

He assailed unfounded criticism of our Government or any of its officials. "We are passing through a trying period in the history of the world and we should support the Government and all its officials in the things they are trying to do that will be beneficial," he declared.

Members of the bar and other guests attended the meeting.

SHERRIFF IS ANGERED

Although Judge Bradley, after returning to town, said he did not wish to prosecute the farmers, Sheriff R. E. Rippey began a vigorous prosecution, promising immediate arrests of the ringleaders.

"Mob rule cannot be countenanced," the sheriff declared. "The ringleaders will be arrested and vigorously prosecuted."

Despite the reluctance of witnesses to talk, Sheriff Rippey said he had learned the identities of several leaders of the mob.

The outbreak, the second by farmers in this part of the state in the last 24 hours, came late yesterday during arguments before Judge Bradley on the constitutionality of the new Iowa mortgage moratorium bill.

One of about 100 farmers in the courtroom tried to interrupt the arguments, but Judge Bradley refused to let him speak. Other farmers joined the argument and the courtroom was soon in an uproar.

Twenty of the agrarians ascended the rostrum, seized the judge and bore him blindfolded from the courtroom.

On the courthouse lawn the revolutionists, joined by five masked men, adjusted a noose about Judge Bradley's throat and started to carry it through if he held that the debt relief bill was unconstitutional. The judge refused to promise.

The mob then hustled their captive into a motor truck and hurried to the jail.

TWO DIE TONIGHT

COLUMBUS, April 28.—Two Ohio state penitentiary convicts today began their last hours of life.

The pair, Tony Rotunno and Ralph Atterholt, both of Sharon, Pa., are scheduled to die in the electric chair at the penitentiary tonight for the murder of Scott Vashinder, Newton Falls marshal, during an attempted robbery last July.

Hopes of executive clemency for the two men were dashed yesterday when Governor George White refused to interfere with their execution. Previously, the common pleas, appeals and the Ohio supreme courts had refused to grant them new trials.

FRENCH DEBT CONFAB TOPIC

"Frank, Friendly" Exchange of Views Expressed; Nothing Official.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—President Roosevelt and M. Herriot have had a "frank and friendly" exchange of views on the knotty problem of France's debt to the United States, they revealed today in a joint statement, on the eve of the French envoy's departure from Washington.

No conclusions, however, were reached, but it was stated that it was felt the exchange had been valuable, and the negotiations will be continued in Washington and Paris.

Not being a member of the present French ministry, in fact having no official status at all, M. Herriot was unable to assure Mr. Roosevelt that his government would "cure" its $19,000,000 default of last December, or make the $40,000,000 payment due on June 15 next.

And in view of the recalcitrant attitude of congress on the debts, Mr. Roosevelt was unable to assure M. Herriot of downward revision.

According to the communiqué, they made mutual explanations of the respective French and American viewpoints and let it rest there for the present.

CONVICTED WOMAN TAKES LIFE WITH THREE IN FAMILY
Mrs. Genevieve Clark Dies Rather Than Serve Six Months In Jail.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 28.—Two children were sentenced to death so that Mrs. Genevieve A. Clark, Minneapolis housewife, could escape a six months jail sentence, police believed today.

Rather than serve the jail sentence imposed for contempt of court in the mail fraud trial of F. B. Fosby and six associates Mrs. Clark preferred to die. As it would have been in life, so it was in death and so the woman's husband, Daniel D. Clark, and their two children accompanied her.

Whether the children had entered into the death pact puzzled Scott and Carver-co officials, who found the family forever safe from the long arm of the law in their car fifteen miles south of here. The entire family had died of monoxide gas.

PIPE IN AUTO
Blankets over the heads of Mrs. Clark and the children indicated to police that Mrs. Clark and her husband had told them they had planned to die in the car. Clark had chopped a hole in the side of the car so that he could insert a hose attached to the exhaust pipe. All of the automobiles were closed.

The trial of Fosby was held in 1931 Mrs. Clark was the only woman selected on the jury and in the deliberations she was the only one who held out for acquittal eleven jurors holding that Fosby was guilty on seventeen counts of an indictment for fraud. A mistrial resulted. Later Fosby and an associate were retried and convicted.

James Brown giving his residence as Alabama was taken for a ride to the skirts of the city Thursday night by city officers and told to continue on his way and not return to Circleville.

Scioto Trail Service Station Man Reported To Have Good Chance.

A demand to be permitted to die, uttered Thursday morning after he slashed himself with a razor, had been changed to a fight for his life today by Robert Teegardin, Scioto Trail service station proprietor.

Teegardin, reported by his brother to be losing his sight, cut his left arm in a fit of despondency Thursday and defied anyone to treat his wound. He lost a great amount of blood.

After being taken to Berger hospital and treated, Mr. Teegardin repented and apologized to his wife for his act.

Hospital attaches say he has a good chance to recover.

SUPPORT FOR ROBINSON AMENDMENT TO FARM BILL URGED BY MEN
SENATE CANVASSED
Fear Purpose of Inflation Would be Lost

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The campaign of the E. E. F. for cash payment of the two billion dollar soldiers' bonus was officially opened today when 25 ex-servicemen began a personal canvass of the Senate office building urging senators to vote for the bonus amendment of Senator Robinson (R) of Indiana, to the farm relief and inflation bill.

E. B. Foulkrod, one time legislative agent of the E. E. F., which brought thousands of veterans to the capital last year, was in charge of the "shock troops."

POSTPONE "INVASION"
Leaders of the new bonus army movement, Foulkrod said, have agreed to postpone a call for an "invasion" of Washington until two weeks. This promise, he said, was made to Louis Howe, secretary to the President, at the White House yesterday.

"If the Senate does not approve cash payment, at least for needy veterans, we will then begin a canvass in the House for 145 signatures to the petition of Rep. Lundeen (F-L) of Minnesota to force a vote in that body."

After beating off all conservative attacks, administration leaders in the Senate fought today to keep cash payment of the bonus out of President Roosevelt's program for currency inflation.

The bonus drive gathered momentum like a landslide. It drew support from conservative Republicans and the great mass of new Democratic party members elected last fall. It amassed administration leaders who regarded it at first as a futile effort to capture headlines.

The fight revolved around the Robinson amendment, proposing to give Mr. Roosevelt discretionary power to order the issuance of $2,225,000,000 in treasury notes to pay off the unpaid balance of every adjusted compensation certificate. About $400,000,000 World War veterans would benefit.

OTHERS IN BACKGROUND
The contest overshadowed all other developments on the inflation issue. The President's foreign debt maneuver, the starting break between Senator Glass (D) of Virginia and Mr. Roosevelt and even the struggle of conservatives to strike out the gold section were swept into the background.

There was no such turmoil over the President's request for authority to accept $200,000,000 in silver on foreign debt payments in the next six months. The Senate appeared anxious to extend this authority in view of Mr. Roosevelt's promise to ask no further debt legislation until after the economic conferences in June.

Under it, he could slash the June payments 30 per cent, by accepting silver at 50 cents an ounce, instead of its current commodity value of 36 cents an ounce. This would apply to all defaulted payments.

REBUKE IS SUEBLE
The break between the President and Mr. Glass had its drama but occasioned little surprise. The Virginian opposed the inflation plan all along, ever since he wrote the Democratic plank last July, calling for a "sound currency." He gently rebuked the President for sponsoring inflation, during a dramatic speech to the Senate.

The currency expansion provisions of the bill were secure against further change. The conservative attack collapsed after the Senate rejected the Reed amendment by a

CHILD HEALTH AND THE CHILD'S FOOD

Each year of the depression has emphasized the importance of our new kind of May Day, now set apart by Presidential proclamation as Child Health Day. Many people believe that by constantly calling attention to child health, through this and other means, the Government has prevented some of the worst of the permanent harm the depression might otherwise have caused. Never before was the community so conscious of the needs of children. It knows that the undernourished child is more likely to become the victim of tuberculosis or other infections both in childhood and later years. It realizes that malnutrition which causes rickets may handicap a child for life. Lack of food or the wrong kind of food brings lasting ills to the community as well as to the child and the family. There is a new appreciation of these vital facts.

So the child's food nowadays is everybody's concern. Parents must see to it, and the community must not neglect it; for upon the child's food and other controllable conditions of his life very largely depends his health. Public welfare organizations, local, State and National governments, are all devoting special efforts to the factors that make for the health of children.

The Bureau of Home Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture makes special studies of food for children. Particularly in these recent years, it works with relief agencies to spread information about the special needs of children and the way to protect child health when food supplies are low. Now, more than ever.

"Children first," should be the slogan where there is not enough food to go round.

The child's diet under any circumstances, according to the child health specialists, must include milk and should include cod-liver oil. At the very least, a pint of milk a day, preferably a pint and a half to a quart. If the child is less than 2 years old, he needs 2 teaspoonfuls of cod-liver oil each day (he ought to have 4) to make sure he is protected against rickets.

He needs other foods, too—orange juice or tomato juice and a vegetable or fruit every day (3 or 4 if possible are advised) with plenty of bread and cereals. Next best to milk, eggs are one of the foods all children should have. In fact, eggs contain some food substances that milk does not contain in any appreciable quantity (such as iron and vitamin D) and therefore are an excellent supplement to milk. Meat at least twice a week adds to the iron and effective protein in the child's diet.

Almost as important to the child as milk and cod-liver oil is sunshine—out-door sunshine. In summer, many children can get sunshine who cannot get the best food. Sunshine does not take the place of milk, or other ordinary food, but it does help the child to grow and develop good bones. The sunlight on the child's bare skin produces in his body one of the same vitamins—vitamin D—that he gets in cod-liver oil and in egg yolk. This vitamin, along with milk, keeps the child from developing rickets. Or if he has rickets, it will help to cure him of that disease.

For children, as for adults, a carefully selected variety of food is necessary for an adequate diet. Even the baby should have some variety, for with variety come vitamins, especially in the tomato juice or orange juice prescribed for him every day. Very soon he should have cereals, egg yolk, and greens. Milk soups, with finely chopped vegetables in the milk, also give variety to the small child's diet. Custards, puddings, fruit whips, and such desserts, are highly nutritious.

Except that the form is usually different for the very young child, the same kinds of food may well be provided for the whole family. This is one way to relieve the busy mother—the serving of the same meal for parents and children. The little tot will not eat as much as the six-year-old, and the six-year-old will not have the big appetite that usually characterizes the boy of 10 or 12. But each and all of them should have milk and vegetables and fruits; eggs as often as income allows, and cereals, meats, fish. Cottage cheese and the cream cheeses are good, and liver is one of the best of meats for children. Fortunately, too, the cheap kinds of liver are practically as nutritious as the expensive kinds, and when suitably cooked are quite as attractive.

RECIPES

Liver and Bacon
1-2 pound sliced bacon.
1 pound sliced liver.
Salt.
Pepper.
Flour.
Parsley.
Cook the bacon slowly in a skillet. As soon as it is delicately browned and crisp, drain on paper, and keep warm. Wipe the liver, and if it is hog or lamb liver scald it a few minutes in hot water. Beef and calf liver does not need scalding. Sprinkle the pieces of liver with salt and pepper, dip in flour, and cook in the bacon fat at moderate heat until the liver is lightly browned. Serve surrounded by the crisp bacon on a hot platter and garnish with parsley. If gravy is desired, reserve 2 table-spoons of the fat, add 2 table-spoons of flour, and 1 1-2 cups of milk or cold water, and stir constantly until thickened. Season with salt, pepper, and a little minced onion. Serve hot with the liver and bacon.

Shoestring Carrots in Milk
Wash and scrape young carrots, cut in slices lengthwise, and then into narrow strips. If the carrots are large ones, cut the strips in half. Heat milk to boiling and add the carrots and salt. Simmer for about 10 minutes or until tender. Add butter or other fat and serve with the milk as sauce. Thickening may be added, if desired.

Creamy Rice With Apricots
1-2 cup rice.
1 cup boiling water.
1 1-2 cups milk.
1-2 teaspoon-salt.
1-2 cup sugar.
2 cups chopped fresh fruit or dried fruit soaked and cooked.
Cook the rice over heat in the cup of boiling water. When the water has been almost absorbed put the rice in a double boiler, add the milk, salt and sugar. Cover and cook until the rice is tender. Mix the rice and fruit and when chilled serve with top milk. Canned grated pineapple gives an excellent flavor.

LOW PRICE
is Only "Close-up" Economy,
but the Far Sighted Man
Buys on a Quality Basis

Many who fall for the lure of Low Price do so because the economy seems so close to immediate savings. But Quality only is really far-sighted economy. Savings increase as service is prolonged and satisfaction sustained.

Cheap merchandise will quickly reveal its cheapness. When cost is to be trimmed on any commodity to meet a Low Price demand every detail of production cost must be skimmed—cheaper materials, cheaper workmanship, a sacrifice of style refinements and other things that enter into cost are tapered off.

An unthinking public assumes that falling costs of material and labor are entirely accountable for these low prices and while the cost of commodities did decline it was not nearly in proportion to the prices represented by the mass of cheap merchandise on the market.

It was simply that many commodities were cheapened to the extreme to meet this hectic low price demand that reduced incomes tempted. Quality was lost in the shuffle in the production of cheap goods. This cheapness eventually shows up in lack of wear, in deterioration of appearance or in some other factor of service expectation whether it relates to wearing apparel, home furnishings, food, drugs or any other commodity.

That is why Quality is economy in the long run. Only Quality develops a substantial investment.

QUALITY makes SAVINGS SAFE and SERVICE CERTAIN

Many of the merchants of this town have stood steadfast on their quality standards throughout the entire period of cheap merchandise demand; sacrificing volume business to quality ideals; preferring to keep faith with their patrons' interests rather than to compromise their reputation for merchandise of integrity. It is at the instance of such stores and the interest of the public in general that this series of "Quality Facts" is published.

RED, BLACK HARRIERS SHOW POWER TO WIN

Local Runners Score 58 Points Against 46½ For New Holland.

PETE DAVIS IS STAR

Ruling Handicaps Activities of Hobbie's Flash.

By REYNOLD GREENE

Plenty of available material and a determination to win saw the Circleville high school tracksters ramble to a win in their first taste of competition against outside forces Thursday afternoon in a tri-school meet with New Holland and Pickaway.

The Tigers scored 58 points while New Holland claimed 46 1-2 and Pickaway 22 1-2.

New Holland, although represented by only six men at times, threatened to overtake the score of the local harriers. As it was the Circleville team garnered six first place positions and New Holland did likewise, with Pickaway turning in two firsts.

Pete Davis, of New Holland, was the big gun of that team tallying 20 of his team's points by taking in four events. To all appearances he could have carried two more but a ruling of the meet allowed one man to enter but four events.

HERBERHOLZ SURPRISED

Even Coach P. S. Herberholz, of the local troupe of harriers, evidenced surprise at the good showing of several of the newcomers to his flock especially in the case of the lower classmen who came through in some events with amazing performances.

Davis, of New Holland, was the high scoring ace while Bill Heggie, of the local school, scored 11 points to take second.

Saturday, May 6, the local team will journey to the Central Buckeye League meet at Ohio State University, while on Friday May 5 the county school teams will assemble at Derby twp for the annual county meet.

The results follow:

100-YARD DASH

Won by E. Kirk of New Holland; E. Kirk, New Holland, second; Smith, Circleville, third. Time 10 seconds.

220-YARD DASH

Won by E. Kirk of New Holland, Smith, Circleville, second; R. Davis, New Holland, third. Time 24 1-5 seconds.

440-YARD DASH

Won by Pete Davis of New Holland; P. Southworth, New Holland, second; W. Osborne, Circleville, third. Time 60 seconds.

880-YARD DASH

Won by R. Shadley of Circleville;

NEW YORK, April 28.—Frank (Lefty) O'Doul, Brooklyn outfielder and 1932 National league batting champion, who has gone hitless in 27 successive times at bat, was confident today that his batting slump was about over. He belted three line drives against the Braves yesterday, but unfortunately all of them went directly at a Boston fielder.

"MORNING GLORIES" TRAMPLE ON STARS

Hurrah! Hurrah! Hurrah! The Morning Glories defeated the Evening Stars in the battle of the century on the Circleville Recreation alleys Thursday night by a margin of 75 pins. The totals of the teams were 1691 for the winners against 1616.

And was it a match? Superlative bowling by Frank Hamilton, noble son of Michigan, who tossed the rounded pellet down the runways enough times to score 317 pins, helped his team to victory. George P. Foresman's bowling was almost as superlative as was Hamilton's. He scored 313.

The contest was a hot one from start to finish and, in fact, became so contested that Dr. Harry Jackson, bowling with the Evening Stars, was forced to quit at the end of the second game so he would have more time to devote to his team's injuries.

Two noble sons of Democracy, Clark Hunsicker and Max Seyfert, were low for their respective teams the former scoring 209 and the latter 219. The pin boy is Jenkins, Circleville, second; Grimes New Holland, third. Time 2 minutes 15 1-5 seconds.

MILE RUN

Won by R. Skaggs of Circleville; Eitel, Circleville, second; Landman, New Holland, third; Foresman, Circleville, fourth. Time 5 minutes 22 seconds.

120-HIGH HURDLES

Won by W. Heggie of Circleville; Speakman, Circleville, second; Griffith, Circleville, third. Time 17 4-5 seconds.

RUNNING HIGH JUMP

Won by Pete Davis of New Holland; White, Circleville, second; P. Wilson, Pickaway, third. 5 feet 8 inches.

RUNNING BROAD JUMP

Won by Pete Davis of New Holland; Brown, Pickaway, second; White, Circleville, third. Distance 20 feet 8 inches.

SHOT PUT

Won by Brown of Pickaway; Newhouse, Pickaway, second; Mumford, New Holland, third. Distance 39 feet 5 inches.

DISCUS

Won by Mace of New Holland; White, Circleville, second; Newhouse, Pickaway, third. Distance, 90 feet 2 inches.

accused of kicking the pins over twice for Seyfert to give him an advantage over Hunsicker.

The match took up the greater part of the evening but no one cared about that. Sheriff Charlie Radcliff and Police Chief Bill Warner were preparing to call out the reserves when scores of complaints were received that the bowlers? were disturbing the peace. The match ended before they could arrive.

Here's the lineup and summary as near as it could be kept:

DEN. DEUSENBERG JOINS RACE GAME

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 28.

A young scion of the nobility of automobile racing was the first to tread upon the traditional bricks of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway this spring in preparation for the annual 500-mile race May 30.

He is nineteen year old Denny Duesenberg, son of the late Fred Duesenberg, whose father first entered a car in the international speed classic a year before Denny was born and who, with his younger brother August, constituted the oldest family in American automobile racing. Denny has entered a car in his own name.

The elder member of the House of Duesenberg was fatally injured last summer while driving one of his powerful stock creations and his son, who has inherited no little of his dad's mechanical genius, is determined to carry on.

During the long winter months after school hours, Denny hied himself to a small workshop and tinkered with a motor of his father's design, hoping to enter it in the competition in which a Duesenberg entry has always been present for the past twenty years.

Because he is not yet of age, the rules of the A. A. A. Contest Board will not permit Denny to drive in the race but he will be directly responsible for the conditioning of his car.

SENATORS AND YANKEES PLAY AGAIN FRIDAY

Great Crowd To See Renewal of Feud; Warning Sent To Players.

GIANTS LEAD LOOP

Back Again Beats Brandt In Hot Deal.

NEW YORK, April 28.—With fair and warmer weather prevailing between 40,000 and 50,000 fans were expected to flock to Yankee stadium today to witness the renewal of the Yankee-Washington feud and, incidentally, a ball game. Special police were assigned to the ball orchard to make sure that all hands check their guns at the door.

Forty thousand fans make a swell setting for a riot, such as occurred at the capital Tuesday. Candor compels the prediction, however, that fistfuffs are unlikely. In the first place, baseball fans in New York (Brooklyn excepted) are about as partisan as a Chinese laundryman listening to an Oxford-Cambridge debate. In the second place, the hired men have been warned that any belligerents will suffer major operations on their most sensitive spot—their pocketbook.

GIANTS IN FIRST

The other New York club, the Giants, are thinking of staging a riot of their own to make the turnstiles hum. While the Yanks expect to play to 120,000 customers against Washington today and tomorrow, only 2,000 fans saw the Giants take first place in the National league yesterday by downing the Phillies, 5 to 2.

"Iron Man" Carl Hubbell, who has been scored upon only once this year, again was the hero. Relieving Starr in the seventh, he stretched his string of scoreless innings to 26, and climaxed a winning three-run rally in the eighth with a rousing double. It was his third victory of the season and the fifth straight for the Giants.

Pittsburgh lost to Chicago, 3 to 2, and dropped to second place. Stephenson and Grimm made Swift look slow by pulling a double steal while the Pirate pitcher was taking a long wind-up. Bush hurried for Chicago.

BECK AGAIN WINS

That interesting invalid, Del Bissonette, won another game for Brooklyn, driving in the only run as Walter (Elmer the Great) Beck, prize rookie from Memphis, took a 1 to 0 duel from Ed Brandt of the Braves. This pair has met in three duels this season, Beck getting the decision in two of them in addition to subduing the Phillies.

Larry Benton of Cincinnati blanked the Cardinals until the ninth inning when a rousing rally in which Rogers Hornsby figured gave St. Louis the nod by a 3 to 2 count.

SEEK R. F. C. AID

FREMONT, O.—A $1,000,000 flood control project providing for a retaining wall 25 feet in height is being planned here with financial aid from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The huge wall would be built between the lowlands at Ballville on the Sandusky river to a point north of Fremont.

NEW DEAL FOR BIRDS ARRIVE; 5 MEN SIGNED

Shires, Wilson, Slade, Lindsey, Judd Obtained For Burgess Whitehead.

PLAY IMMEDIATELY

Wally Gilbert Is Handed His Release Slip.

COLUMBUS, April 28.—The whispered 'new deal' for the Red Birds has arrived.

Art Shires will play first base. Gordon Slade will play second base.

Charlie Wilson will play shortstop.

Jim Lindsey and Ralph Judd will do some hurling.

An outfielder, Estell Crabtree, presumably, will be available if and when the Birds need him.

Burgess Whitehead will join the St. Louis Cardinals and will play second base.

Wally Gilbert, third baseman, is released to Rochester.

Such was the amazing announcement from President Larry MacPhail, Thursday, while the Birds were turning back St. Paul, 10-7, in the season's opening fray in that city. Fred Blake was the winning hurler although he had to be relieved by Paul Dean.

RUMORS TRUE

Rumors had been making the rounds quite strongly this week concerning the shakeup which sees the classy young second-sacker join Gabby Street's team. He will replace the aging Hornsby at the keystone sack and the way White is been hitting this year it is hoped he will fill the bill. Frankie Frisch's experienced help at shortstop will help the southern boy in his advent into the fast time.

It has been hoped all year that the Birds might finally catch up with Shires and they finally did. Charlie Wilson is a welcome addition at shortstop and Slade, although not so good as Whitehead, will be as classy as any second baseman in the A. A. loop. Lindsey and Judd should both win for the Red Birds and the ability of Crabtree if he is needed is well known as he is a former Columbus Senator and Cincinnati Red.

Shires and Slade were to play this afternoon after going to St. Paul with MacPhail via air yesterday afternoon. Slade is slated to play shortstop until Wilson arrives probably in the next two days. Shires will replace Caldwell at first with the latter, a hard-worker and good hitter, going back to Greenboro from whence he came. It is expected Bill Narlesky will go either to Minira or Greensboro.

COLOR IS ADDED

Shires, alone, will give the Red Birds more color than they have possessed for a long while. He starts with Boston, Braves last year only to suffer an injured knee. This is the only defect in his appearance in a Bird suit as his physical condition is not certain. If he plays like he did two years ago with Milwaukee, well, the Birds have the best first-sacker in the minor leagues. If not, well, that's something else.

All the new players have accepted the Columbus terms. MacPhail has announced.

Charlie Wilson is considered a sensational shortfielder having performed there for Rochester in a crack manner for a couple of years. He joined the Cardinals late in the 1932 season after batting .298 for the New York town team.

Shires hit only .238 for the Braves but it must be considered he kept trying to play even with a bad knee. Slade batted .240 for the Brooklyn Dodgers while Crabtree smacked .273. Whitehead chalked up a .312 average in 162 games while the released Gilbert hit only .214.

Lindsey won three and lost three for the Cardinals while Judd, with Houston, won 18 and lost 10 with an earned run average of 3.24.

Yes, the Birds will be a different ball club when they return from their road trip through the western cities on May 12 when the Indianapolis Indians begin a series.

NOT WORTH SHOT

NEW YORK—"No woman in the world is worth shooting," said Judge Martin, adding, "The penalty is too great." He was inspired to express the thought by the arraignment of Malcolm Doziel, Mildred Miner, a pianist, had charged that Doziel had threatened to kill her.

"Fox of the Philippines" to Visit Uncle Sam

General Emilio Aguinaldo, Elusive Rebel Chief of Three Decades Ago, to Discuss Philippine Independence at Washington.

AGUINALDO WITH PHILIPPINE INSURRECTORS

ADMIRAL GEORGE DEWEY GEN EMILIO AGUINALDO GEN FREDERICK FUNSTON

After three decades of steadfast refusal to visit the land of his conquerors General Emilio Aguinaldo, who led the Philippine insurrectionists in their fight for liberty after the Spanish-American War, will visit the United States shortly to discuss the Philippine Independence Bill, to which he is opposed, with President Roosevelt. Although he holds no political position in the islands, Aguinaldo is looked upon by his countrymen in the same light as we revere the memory of George Washington. His history is a colorful one. Back in 1896, when he was a teacher in the parochial school of his native town, Cavite Viejo, across the bay from Manila, he led the islands in revolt against Spanish rule and succeeded in winning many reforms for his country. However, the terms of the peace treaty he signed with the Spanish Governor General in 1897 provided for his exile. He went to Hongkong, where he remained until Dewey had blasted the Spanish fleet out of Manila Bay. Then he offered his services to the United States in subduing the islands on condition that the Philippines would be given self-government. According to Aguinaldo, these terms were accepted. He kept his part of the bargain, helping to capture the city of Manila. But he claims that the United States failed to keep its part of the agreement. This resulted in the insurrection, during which Aguinaldo was chased for two years, always keeping a jump ahead of the American forces sent to capture him. However, he was trapped by General (then Colonel) Frederick Funston in 1901. He took the oath of allegiance to the U. S., and for three decades has kept it faithfully.

Model Law Dropped

WHATSOEVER can be said in behalf of marriage laws requiring health certificates from license applicants—and much can be said in their behalf—the fact remains that in practical application very little is accomplished by them.

This observation is drawn forth by the action of the North Carolina legislature in repealing what had been called a model marriage law after 12 years' experience with it. Two factors contributed to the decision to erase it and substitute a more liberal statute. One was that couples avoided its provisions by having the ceremony performed in nearby states. Virginia, South Carolina and Tennessee, all adjoining North Carolina, were available for the purpose. Another reason was decline in revenues from license fees. Loss of the latter was felt quite heavily by some country trustees.

Repeal of the statute had been resisted for several years but women's and welfare organizations were successful in resisting the proposal until this year when the movement became too strong to be defeated. Not only were the objectionable provisions of the marriage law eliminated, but the divorce law also was liberalized by reducing from five to two years the separation period required for institution of a divorce suit on desertion grounds.

Marriage and divorce have become important industries in the United States, for which there is sharp competition among the community. The tendency is toward easy marriage and equally easy divorce, with the danger that it may go too far in these directions. The only corrective for this situation lies in uniform marriage and divorce laws, but there is little chance that such an objective will be soon attainable.

Compromise

THE only final enemies are the good and the bad, the true and false. These are at odds in every struggle, even though the human share in their warfare may be confused beyond divination. Yet a man is either sure that he fights the right or he confesses to himself that the right does not concern him and that his loyalties are to be sold for his ambitions. In such strife the sincere man cannot yield unless he first surrenders his convictions; the man with no convictions beyond his own ambitions can and will give ground for what he may get out of it.

Truth is always under the fire of his enemies and has also with him in the gates of its citadel another enemy, who tempts with the quick pace of compromise. This is the traitor who is ready to meet the enemy on the middle ground where defense surrenders all its advantage or will yield a gate or tower under the spur of fear, and so destroy the integrity of his city.

Much honest conviction and many institutions built upon it have gone down through such surrender to expediency. Remembering this, clear-sighted and whole-hearted men have small taste for compromise. They fight for their standards or fall beside them and leave to those of lesser faith the hazardous peace of a bargain with the enemy. Were it not for this gallant obstinacy of the free spirit, few things worth while would ever have been won or held for the service of man.

CHEYENNE, Wyo.—Wyoming long the home of more sheep than any other state in the union, has dropped to third place, according to information recently compiled by the United States department of agriculture. Texas, with 7,644,000 head, is now first; Montana, with 4,049,000 is second; Wyoming, with 2,893,000 sheep.

THE CHALLENGE OF LOVE
by WARWICK DEEPING

SYNOPSIS

Dr. John Wolfe, old Dr. Montague Threadgold's assistant, is stunned at the unsanitary conditions he finds in the smug little town of Navestock. Wolfe realizes his greatest fight in ridding the town of pollution will be in overcoming the resentful attitude of the people themselves who seem perfectly satisfied with their mode of living. He encounters his first obstacle in the person of Jasper Turrell, the brewer, who objects to Wolfe taking a sample of his well water for analysis. Undaunted by opposition, Wolfe continues his researches and prepares a map of the town's unsanitary areas. The one bright spot in Navestock is the home of Mrs. Mary Mascall where Wolfe is always sure of a welcome. He is exceptionally fond of Mrs. Mascall's young daughter, Jess. Wolfe is summoned to the home of elderly Miss Perfrement, who feigns heart attacks to attract attention. She is annoyed when Wolfe does not humor her and tells her there is no cause for alarm. Later, Dr. Threadgold insists that Wolfe be more tactful. Wolfe realizes it is to Threadgold's financial benefit to humor the lady. The blundering old man cautions Wolfe against using so much "expensive" medicines when the "ordinary" preparations will do. Wolfe's disgust with the abounding ignorance reaches its peak when he finds three babies in the care of Mrs. Lucy Gallop drugged from a "cordial" given as a pacifier. He censures Hubbard, the chemist, for selling it. Hubbard complains to old Threadgold who criticizes Wolfe. Later, Wolfe meets Jess coming from school.

"Pimley's a snob. You should see her with those Dudeney girls," said Jess you know; wretched stuff—Macanlay and Cowper, and all that. She put me on to read to-day, and we fell out over a word.

"One little word!"
"It was like this Mother always says 'crownation' for coronation. It's her way, and it's as good as any other way. So I read 'crownation,' just to see what Pimley would say."

"Cor-o-nation, Miss Mascall; only vulgar people say 'crownation.' That made me cross, because Mother says it, and she isn't vulgar. I said, 'My mother calls it 'crownation.'"

"She said, 'No person of education pronounces the word so.' Wolfe's eyes glimmered. "That was tactless. And you?"

"I got up, and put my books away, and I said, 'Miss Pimley, my mother is not a person, and she pays your fees.'"

"Then there was that thunderstorm. "Pimley spluttered. Do you know people who splutter? She said, 'Miss Jessica Mascall—but I got in first.'"

"One from the shoulder?"
"I said, 'Miss Pimley, I have no further need of your services. Good afternoon.'"

"I say, that was good!"
"Wasn't it! I haven't felt so well this year."

She looked it, too, with a gleam of audacity in her eyes, fine frank eyes that made some of her more sentimental school-fellows foresee for her all manner of romances. Little Rose Steyner, who scribbled verses in old sermon books of her father's, would hold to Jess and utter admiringly, "Jess has such wonderful eyes." And they were the more wonderful because Jess Mascall made no cunning use of them.

She broke out into impetuous confidences. "Old people are always talking to young people about manners, but why should we say anything when old people are rude to us? Does being very old make us important, and able to say the nastiest thing that we please? I like to take people like I take dogs and horses. I'm not afraid of them, and that's everything."

Wolfe looked at her thoughtfully. "Most of us—when we grow up—are so shy and so afraid of startling too hard at someone else's

Pellagra Is A Puzzler To Science

Cause Is Unknown, But Blame Is Laid to Faulty Diet

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D.
United States senator from New York
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

PELLAGRA is one disorder that has baffled science for a long time. Though great advances have been made in its control, the exact cause responsible for its symptoms is not known. But during the past decade the disease has come to be regarded as a nutritional disease and not as an infection. By this I mean that it is probable pellagra is caused by faulty diet and not by a germ.

The disease has been known for more than two hundred years. At one time it was believed to be a poor man's disease, caused by the lack of food, sunshine, and proper sanitation. But it is encountered in families where there is no lack of food, but where the wrong kind of food is eaten. Occasionally it is met in persons who have indulged in severe and dangerous methods of dieting.

We are greatly indebted in many ways to the excellent work conducted by the United States public health service. It conducted intensive investigations of pellagra. Its study reveals that pellagra can be traced to a diet lacking in certain vitamins, particularly vitamin G. It is believed this vitamin is a substance necessary to prevent this disease.

Foods With Vitamin G
Fortunately, this vitamin is found in a variety of foods. For example a diet that is varied and contains an abundant supply of fresh lean meats, liver, milk, canned salmon, eggs, dried beans, peas and spinach, assures an adequate supply of this vitamin.

Prolonged use of a diet lacking in vitamin G will result in pellagra. It won't be long before the victim complains of a reddish discoloration of the skin. The skin peels and sheds large quantities of scales. The face, neck and hands are usually involved. In addition, the sufferer has marked nervous symptoms, such as melancholia, hallucinations, stupor and convulsions. The gums become swollen and bleed easily. There is an increased amount of saliva and the victim has severe intestinal disturbances.

Diet, as you see, is important in the prevention of pellagra. Pellagra is most common in localities where the inhabitants live on a diet which varies very little from day to day. Canned foods can be substituted for fresh fruits and vegetables when the latter are not available. Canned spinach, turnips and string beans contain sufficient vitamin G to aid materially in the prevention of pellagra. The use of a properly balanced diet with abundant fresh fruits and vegetables will lead to a decrease in the occurrence of this disagreeable ailment.

AT THE CLIFTONA

Philips Holmes looks forward to the time when the public and the actors of the screen will speak the same language. There should be no difference between the two, he maintains. Not that he believes the screen players should ape public utterance, but that the public should pattern after the screen. "But first," says Holmes, "screen players themselves must reach some unanimity in speech. There are as many accents as there are regions from which the players come."

AT THE GRAND

That passion, drama, and tragedy, enter into the lives of humble people in just as real a manner as they do in the lives of other classes is powerfully shown in the Universal pictureization of J. M. Tully's "Laughter in Hell" which opened its engagement at the Grand Theatre Wednesday night.

MINE DISCOVERIES

OTTAWA—From the viewpoint of increased production and treatment capacities, enlarged mine developments, 1932 was the greatest year in the history of Canada's gold industry. The value of production for the year (exclusive of exchange compensation) was approximately $64,000,000, an increase of about $8,000,000 over that of 1931.

The Housewife's Question Box

Question.—What kind of container is recommended for storing wool garments?

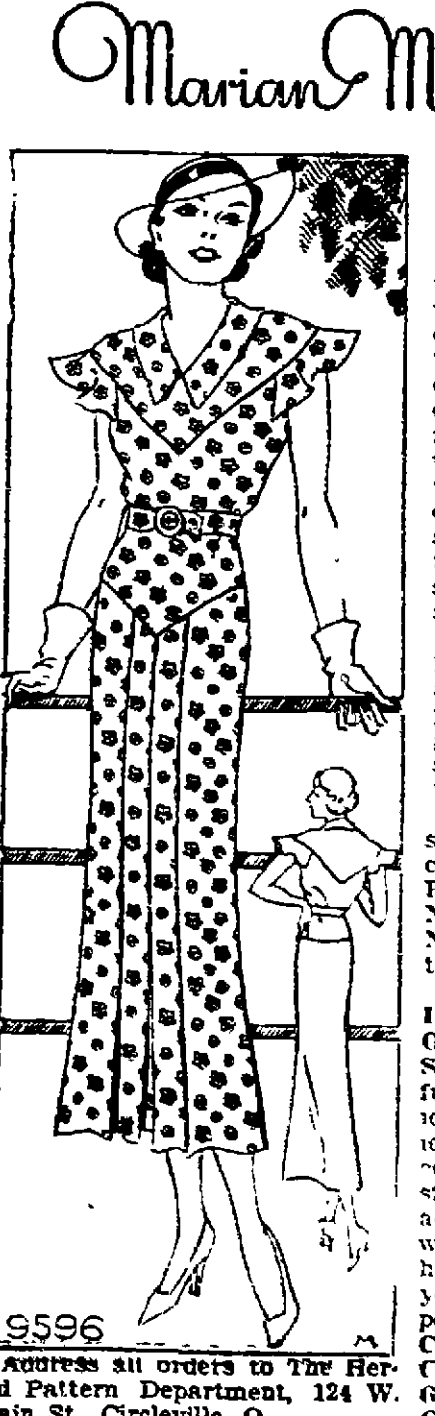

Answer.—A firm cardboard box with a well fitting lid, a dust proof chest, or a heavy paper or cloth garment bag may be safely used for storing garments for the season. However, the space between the lid and box should be sealed with gummed paper and the bag should be made of dust proof material or heavy unbroken paper and so constructed that all openings may be sealed including the hole in the top through which the book passes and the opening in the side of the bag. In cloth bags zipper fastenings are more nearly moth proof than any other type; for paper bags a triple fold edge with metal clamps is recommended; or the edges may be sealed with gum paper.

B. & I. CLUB MEETS THURSDAY EVENING

The Business and Professional Women's club met in the club rooms Thursday evening with the vice president, Miss Charlotte McCollister, presiding in the absence of the president, Miss Elma Rains.

It was announced that an Executive Board meeting would be held at the home of Miss Rains, Monday evening at 7 o'clock and also that a card party would be given at the home of Miss Minnie Palm, chairman of the hospitality committee, Wednesday evening May 3.

Miss Mary Wilder, public librarian, was the speaker for the evening, her subject being "Library Associations." The most interesting facts gleaned from her talk were that the American Library Association was founded in 1876, at Philadelphia, its object being to found and improve libraries, and in 1927 its membership had reached 10,000. The Association holds a general meeting each year, its headquarters now being in Chicago.

The Ohio Library association was organized in 1895, its object being to promote fraternal relations among librarians and encourage the establishment of new libraries in every locality and increase the usefulness of those already established. This association holds annual meetings as well as inter-state meetings and district meetings. A district meeting is scheduled to be held in Circleville in June.

Our own Public library is managed by a board of trustees comprised of members appointed by the Mayor and confirmed by the city council. They serve for a term of four years, three members being appointed at the beginning of each city administrative term. Its members are non-partisan and there are no salaries or fees attached. The trustees meet once a month to receive the librarian's report and transact the business.

Each resident has access to over 26,000 volumes, fifty or sixty current periodicals, newspapers and up-to-date information on most any subject. An average of 200 books are issued daily. Last year more than fifty cents a day was collected on over-due books. In 1932, 309 persons more took out library cards than in previous years, with an average of seven books per capita issued for home reading.

The next club meeting to be held May 11 will be a dinner meeting at which time officers will be elected for the ensuing year.

a final vote on the whole inflation program. Payment of the bonus was sponsored by Senator Robinson (R) of Indiana. During debate, he accepted an amendment, eliminating mandatory payment and giving the President a discretionary power to issue the treasury notes and pay the war veterans. His amended program drew sweeping support.

Senator Long (D) of Louisiana endorsed it and predicted the President would accept it. Then, the conservatives fell into line, led by Senator Hastings (R) of Delaware, and Cleveland (D) of New York. Senator McAdoo (D) of California, a former secretary of the treasury, told colleagues he would vote for it.

Administration leaders were agast. They declared its adoption would put the President under pressure to pay the bonus and might result in defeat of the whole inflation program. While debating the bonus the Senate almost lost interest in the farm relief bill to which the inflation program was offered as a "ride." A final vote on the bonus must precede adoption of the inflation "ride" and both these steps must be taken before the farm bill can pass the Senate.

ried him half a mile out of Le Mars.

CHOKED, SLAP JUDGE

There they snatched him with grease tapers from a hub-capped loose from the truck. Slapping and choking the judge the farmers flung handfuls of good black Iowa soil upon him. The judge, crowned with the tin hub-cap, a rope over an electric pole bearing high tension wires and the noose was fitted about Judge Bradley's neck.

"Swear," commanded the mask leader, "that you never will sign another foreclosure action against an Iowa farm."

"I cannot swear that," said the judge.

The rope tightened about the jurist's neck as one of the farmers stepped up with a knife, ostensibly to cut down the body when the threat was carried out.

At this point the judge was asked again how he was going to rule.

on the mortgage relief bill. The judge still refused to promise, but did say he would "deal fairly with all men."

The farmers drew the rope taut, and the body of the judge rose, for an instant, clear of the ground. The hangmen loosened their grip and Judge Bradley collapsed.

ORDERED TO PRAY

Again he was asked to swear against further foreclosures and again he refused.

"Then pray," the leader commanded. "Pray for the farmers."

With the tin cup crowning his white hair, the judge knelt, still blindfolded, and prayed.

"Oh, Lord, I pray thee, do justice to all men," he said in a clear voice.

With that the five masked men who had arranged the gibbet ran to an automobile and sped off. The mob melted away and the judge trudged toward town. Later at his home Judge Bradley said he did not care to discuss the episode. Although his mouth and neck were cut the jurist said he was not seriously hurt.

The day's disorders began at Pringha, Ia., 50 miles northeast of here, when 500 farmers attacked deputy sheriffs during a forced sale of farm property. They turned their attention to an attorney for the foreclosure and
